J. S. Amundsen, of Williams, spent most of the week visiting with his family who are spending the winter months in Kingman.

Machinery, lumber, timbers and mining supplies of all kinds is crowding the ground space along the Kingman railroad yards.

Mrs. W. A. Mensch and daughter Bessie came in from the Enterprise mine last Tuesday to take in the school entertainment.

Mrs. Carpenter, of Flagstaff, is wintering in Kingman, the high altitude and cold winters of the Skylight City being too much for her health.

A large delegation of white sheep shearers came in from the east last Thursday. All the men heretofore engaged in the work in Kingman have been Mexicans.

LOST.—Tuesday night, at Elks Hall, one baby cap, white, trimmed with white bows and adorned with small animal heads. Leave at MINER shop and receive reward.

To the traveling men that visit this section, Kingman is one of the most prosperous towns in the territory. More goods are sold here than at any place of its size in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Ragsdale departed to the coast Thursday evening for a week's outing and Judge W. G. Blakely will hold services in the church tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

William Maguire, who came in from the Goldfield country last week, reports that O. D. Clack is coming back to Mohave county, the trip being made overland by team.

Mrs. Mary E. Prisk is quite ill at her home in Chloride, her two boys having been called to her bedside. Alfred Prisk came in from Los Angeles and departed to Chloride last Tuesday.

The county dads are removing the Bowers building from the south side of Beale street to the north side of the same street, in the neighborhood of the county poor farm buildings, and will use it in connection with the farm. A tank and tower are being erected on the grounds, from which the farm will be irrigated.

A letter received last night from Representative S. W. Tobey, dated at Phenix Thursday last, conveys the information that the bill authorizing Mohave county to issue additional bonds to the amount of $30,000 to build a courthouse had passed the lower house. There is no doubt that it will pass the Council.

Mrs. Maguire's Funeral.

Last Sunday afternoon the body of Mrs. Helen Maguire was brought to Kingman, her two daughters accompanying the remains. The funeral was held from the M. E. Church and brought out one of the largest crowds of people that that little edifice has seen in many years.

Mrs. Maguire was one of the best known and best loved women in the county and her death will be sincerely mourned by not only her children, but by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

K. S. L. S. Entertainment.

Last Tuesday night the school children gave an enjoyable intertainment in Elks Hall, which spacious building was filled to the doors. While some of the actors failed to have their lines properly committed, taken as a whole the performance of the children was good. Recitations and songs were above the average and the children may well feel proud of their achievement.

E. F. Thomson, O. D. M. Gaddis and J. W. Thorn returned yesterday from the Gold Road and Tom Reed mines, where they looked over mining interests. They were much pleased with progress of that section since their last visit.

Frank O'Dea and niece, Miss Stella Corson, have been in Kingman several days from their home in Todd Basin. Mr. O'Dea has been at work on the old Garfield mining claim in the Basin and has opened up a nice body of ore.

Duffy Anti-Gambling Bill.

Many people have asked this paper for the full text of the Duffy anti-gambling bill, which recently passed the legislature and is now a law of the land, and we give it in full:

Be it Enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Arizona:

Sec. 1. No city, town or village may license the carrying on or operating in any place or any manner of any game or games of any variety whatsoever, nor impose nor collect any occupation tax or other tax upon or from any person or persons for the carrying on or operation thereof.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall gamble by any device or in any manner whatsoever in any saloon, shop, store, storehouse, tavern, hotel, club, clubhouse, club-room, or in any street, highway or public place, or in any out-house where people resort, or in any place or room maintained as a gambling resort, or in any room or place where intoxicating beverages are sold or served, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 3. If any proprietor, owner or part-owner, lessee, manager or any person having management, supervision or control, temporary or permanent, of any of the places mentioned in the preceding section shall knowingly permit any gambling to be done in such place, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 4. In any prosecution for a violation of Sec. 3 of this Act no person shall be exempt or excused from testifying because by so testifying he may incriminate himself under the provisions of Sec. 2 of this Act; but one who has so testified shall be privileged from prosecution under the provisions of said Sec. 2 upon any matter inquired of him when so testifying.

Sec. 5. This Act shall take effect upon its passage.

The Farmer's Daughter.

A simple, every-day heart-touching story of the sort that concerns real people and deals with real situations and the realities of life instead of the impossibilities, is the kind the playwright has woven into an interesting rural drama in The Farmer's Daughter. The play tells the story of a beautiful girl of the clover-laden hills of New England, and is a rural play of unusual merit, in fact, it is said to be the successor of The Old Homestead and Way Down East. No play of this type in years has attracted such widespread attention as The Farmer's Daughter, which will be seen at the Opera House on Monday, March 1st.

Treasurer J. S. Withers returned from the Eldorado Canyon section last Tuesday night, bringing Mrs. Withers and the children home with him. He reports that there is great activity in Searchlight and the Canyon country, the operating companies rushing work all along the line. The new smelter turned out its first bars of bullion while he was at Nelson and it was the opinion that the plant would be a great success. Sandy Harris was sacking and shipping rich ore from his claim near the Techatticup and is in a fair way to become a millionaire. Automobiles are making the trip from Searchlight to the Canyon in about an hour, over a distance of about thirty miles. These machines also make the heavy nine mile canyon grade at good speed.

Robert L. Manship and Miss Grace Goodman were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, at Redlands, on the 16th of this month. The happy couple returned from their bridal trip last Monday and were met at the train by a large number of friends. They will reside in Kingman. Their many friends wish them all the good things that come to a happily wedded couple during a long life.

Mrs. William Aitken was down from Truxton this week, visiting with her mother, Mrs. Cofer. It is understood that she will build a residence in Kingman this year and remove from the ranch.

All the stone work on the Mulligan-Thompson building is completed and the floors are now being laid. The building is one of the handsomest on the line of the Santa Fe, being built entirely of Kingman tuff, a stone that is easily worked and hardens in the building.

Monaghan & Murphy are about to reopen the Capital group of mines, at Marie Camp, some distance below Eldorado Canyon. The mines at one time showed up rich bodies of ore, but owing to a tragedy at that place work was suspended and the mines allowed to lie idle for years. An Indian named Ah Vote ran amuck in the Eldorado Canyon country, killing a number of men at that place and later going down the river to Marie camp, where he killed Charles Monaghan, and then across the river to the Gold Bug mill, where he killed Judge J. M. Morton. Since the death of Monaghan nothing has been done on the mines, except the assessment work, but activity in the river country has stirred up the owners to action and now a systematic effort will be made to put the mines on a producing basis.

John B. McCloskey, familiarly known as the "Cardinal", died at Grass Springs last week. He was about 70 years of age and had resided in Mohave county many years. The past ten years he had been residing on the ranch of Mrs. Esther Starkey, at Grass Springs. He was a familiar figure in the mining camps of this district and was known to all the old timers.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Popular Because it is the Best.

"I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicines on the market. For babies and young children there is nothing better in the line of cough syrup," says Paul Allen, Plain Dealing, La. This remedy not only cures the coughs, colds and croup so common among young children, but is pleasant and safe for them to take. It contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult. For sale by H. H. Watkins.

Reason Enthroned.
